

StoryCareTM

One of the greatest challenges a leader faces is keeping the team focused on the fundamentals of caring for patients and their family members, while at the same time ensuring their safety.

StoryCare is a customized innovation program driving sustainable behavior change.

People have always used stories to teach shared values and to change behaviors. We respond to stories about the struggles of others, because their stories often mirror our own challenges.

The StoryCare system leverages the power of story to create impactful team-based learning simulations by using the most powerful simulator: the human brain.

A web based, easy-to-use, highly engineered, enterprise-wide teamwork simulation program, StoryCare enables teams to develop a shared mental model, establish mutual trust, and build interdependence. The result is a team focused on delivering excellent care from the boardroom to the frontline.

Maximizing ownership is key to achieving an enterprise-wide culture of excellence. With StoryCare, team members collectively decide which behaviors and best practices to adopt, based on what works in their setting.

StoryCare's rapid improvement cycle follows the latest improvement science, yet is disarmingly simple to facilitate. Teams are able to learn, practice, and 'hard-wire' new behaviors during a highly creative, yet scripted, 30-day rapid cycle improvement period.
